Jezzibell has been an active force in the NANOG community for many years, lending her expertise in any area that has been asked of her. Her knowledge of the people and companies that make our community would be a valuable asset on the Board of Directors, as they work to continue the growth and reach of NANOG. Her business background, planning and management skills, and the fantastic ability to listen to all sides of an issue would be of great benefit to the Board and community as a whole.
